Greetings Dear Covenant Partners,

I pray this letter finds you living in the abounding fullness of God's grace.

We have all heard the statement, "Time flies when you're having fun". Honestly, it seems to me that anymore, whether in good times or bad times, time is flying by. With that said, we need to cherish and make every second of it count. What are your goals for 2015? One of my number one goals for 2015, is to daily give God more time. Not carving out bits and pieces here and there, but giving Him prime choice of my time each day to see what He would have me say and do. But in this, I have already found that it is easy to get caught up in the marathon of life once again and instead of giving Him the prime time, I give Him what's left.

In Psalms 18:1-3 (NKJ) David writes, "I will love You, O Lord, my strength. The Lord is my rock and my fortress and my deliverer; My God, my strength, in whom I will trust; My shield and the horn of my salvation, my stronghold. I will call upon the Lord, who is worthy to be praised; So, shall I be saved from my enemies." David knew the power in spending time with God. God can't be the escape clause in our life that when we are in trouble we go to Him. When we love someone, we daily invest in that relationship to nurture and grow it.

In 2015, make it your aim to daily spend quality time with God growing and nurturing your relationship with Him. As you do, you will also boldly and with confidence be able to confess those words that David spoke in Psalms 18:1-3.

Debbie and I pray God's richest blessings over you, your families, your churches/ministries/businesses and whatever else you are putting your hands to do.

We would love to hear back from you with your prayer requests and praise reports. Until next time, keep reaching forward as the best is yet to come!

Sincerely,

Dr. Keith & Debbie (Zirkle) Spanberger
