Greetings Dear Covenant Partner,

I pray this letter finds you living in the Lord's richest blessings.

I can't believe that we are almost to the end of 2016. In fact, as I write this letter, we only have 33 days remaining. For so many, this is disheartening news and for others, they are rejoicing and saying, "Come on 2017!" There are also those living in the very present moment full of the joy of the Lord in whatever they are doing.

We read in Matthew 6, where it warns us not to be anxious about our life. Isaiah 43:18 tells us "to forget the former things; do not dwell on the past". God wants us to live in the present, as the very present moment is really all we have been promised on this earth. It's time to stop thinking about everything that you didn't get done and stop worrying about all that you want to get done and make right now the most impactful moment of your life.

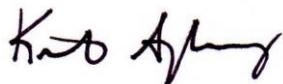

I look at it this way; Jesus at the cross redeemed us from our past and also secured victory in every present moment. There will be moments where it does not look or feel like you're a victor BUT we are NEVER to be moved by what our physical senses try to dictate to us. Faith simply knows that God is God 24/7/365 and makes that the final authority in all things.

So, if you feel like you are off track in what you're supposed to be doing, then ask God to forgive you and get back on track right where you left off. If you're not sure what the Lord has called you to do, then ask! He has a plan for all of us and He will not leave us alone to fend for ourselves. He is the greatest example of a loving Father, so rest in that knowledge.

This very moment is a new one; there will never be another like it, so make it count. I read a quote once that went something like this: "What would you do if you knew you could not fail? Then do it!" Today, start living for God like there is no tomorrow. Dare to be a man and woman after God's own heart. He loves you so much and this season we are coming into, should be the greatest reminder of this.

Always know that you are loved and prayed for daily! If there is anything we can be agreeing with you on in prayer, then please let us know.

Sincerely,

Dr. Keith & Debbie (Zirkle) Spanberger
