Greetings Dear Covenant Partner,

I pray this letter finds you living in the Lord's richest blessings. I just returned from CA where I spoke at a youth camp and on the last night, I spoke on "Character". I want to share part of that teaching in this letter.

The definition of character: "The mental and moral qualities distinctive to an individual." I have heard it said, "Your true character is who you are behind closed doors" but I want to go a little deeper.

Most everyone wants "a good reputation". After all, it's our reputation that goes before us and opens many of the important doors in life. Here is a quote that Abraham Lincoln was credited with: "Character is like a tree and reputation, its shadow. The shadow is what we think it is and the tree is the real thing." These words remind us that reputation is only the reflection of an even greater quality; that of character.

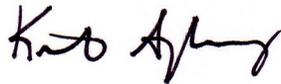

What makes up a person's character? There are many ways to look at this question, but all roads ultimately lead to the same destination; simply put, a person's character consists of those qualities that determine his or her response to the circumstances and challenges of life. Character is what motivates us to respond in the way that we do when confronted with the realities of life that require us to make choices or decisions. Character is NOT what we do... but instead, it's who we are. It's not the choices or decisions themselves; rather, it is the moral fiber of our being from where those choices and decisions flow.

Here are four-character qualities that I find are key: discipline, humbleness, courage and honesty. These are all critical traits.

In Scripture, the word for character means "express image." We read that Christ is referred to in Hebrews 1:3 as the "express image" of God. My character is God's design and therefore I don't have to let the world define me! What would those closest to you say about your character and then what would you say about your character behind closed doors? It's so important that we inventory our own lives and pray over them and seek God's wisdom on how to better them.

Debbie and I want you to know that you're important to us. We pray for you daily and would love to hear from you with your prayer requests, praise reports and anything else you would like to share.

Sincerely,

Dr. Keith & Debbie (Zirkle) Spanberger
